A PLACE FOR SPINER.

The Syracuse (N. Y.) Journal proposes that the New York Republican convention nominate General Spinner, late Treasurer of the United States, for Treasurer of that State. The suggestion meets with much favor from the State press generally. With Fred Seward as a candidate for Secretary of State, and General Spinner for Treasurer, the Republicans would surely deserve to carry that State by a handsome majority.

THE OTHER SIDE.

THURSDAY, Aug. 5, 1875.
EDITORS REPUBLICAN: DEAR SIR:—My attention has been called to an article in your paper headed, "Reason of Delay on the Midland Road," upon information furnished by I. J. Hallett, Route Mail Agent, in which I am accused of gross negligence in leaving a train at Danham over Sunday, the first of August last. The information so furnished you, whether intentional or not, is false in every particular.

Your informant says the train was held at Danham by the conductor, whereas the facts are, that on Saturday night, on account of the stormy weather and being apprehensive of trouble on the road, the Gen'l. Supt., Mr. Hallett, as a measure for the safety of passengers, employees, and the company's property, ordered me to abandon this train at Danham, which I did, after which the conductor could not have left that station under any circumstances without an order from the General Supt. or myself. The train was held at Danham Sunday for the same prudential reasons. Though we had no truck washed out or bridge washed away between Danham and Decatur, still portions of the track and one of the culverts were under water, and we did not think it safe to run until the water subsided. We knew that passengers and property were safe at Danham and we proposed to keep them safe and not take any unnecessary risk when there was no absolute necessity for it.

As regards not getting a satisfactory answer from me, when the conductor asked me on Sunday, for permission to go ahead, I told him no, that he had better stay at Danham than to go ahead and take any risk of hurting passengers. This, with the fact that the train was abandoned, that I had sent the engineer orders to pull his fire and save his water, should, I think, have convinced your informant that it was my intention to hold the train at Danham until I could move it with safety, and that it was not as stated by your informant, leaving train passengers to take care of themselves. The President, General Supt., and myself were in the office Sunday receiving reports from the Road Master, Master Bridge Builder and Section foremen, and seeing that every precaution was used to prevent injury to life or property, the result of which is seen in the fact that during this almost unprecedented storm we have not had a wheel off the track, and that our trains are running through from Peoria to Terre Haute uninterrupted by any track or wash out.

As I do not suppose that it was your intention to publish a misstatement of the case, I furnish you this information that you may make the necessary correction. Yours truly,
P. CAMPBELL,
Asst. Supt.

A FREE LIBRARY IN DECATUR.—On Tuesday last the common council of Decatur voted to accept a proposition made to it by the Ladies' Library Association of that city, to turn over to the city its books and property as a nucleus for a free library under the provisions of the state law. The council at once appropriated $1,300 for the use of the library for the coming year. Decatur is, we believe, the fourth city in the state which has now organized a free library under the state statute. Peoria Transcript.

THE Western Union Telegraph Company, it is reliably stated, owns 173,000 miles of wire and has 10,000 offices in successful operation. The capital of the concern is $23,000,000, upon which it pays eight per cent. dividends. Should the rumored consolidation with the Atlantic and Pacific line prove to be founded on fact, the facilities of the company will be increased to an extent sufficient to enable it to laugh to scorn all efforts on the part of opposition lines to compete with it for the business of the country. The fact that Jay Gould is said to contemplate the organization of a rival company with a capital of $25,000,000 in order to get control of Western Union stock at his own price, invests these figures with special interest just at the present.

A few minutes' ride and we pass the famous Elysian hills, formerly a beautiful park and the pleasure resort of the city. Close by is the place made famous by the fatal and cruel duel between Burr and Hamilton. A monument formerly marked the spot, but now, as if to hide the shame of that wicked transaction, the busy scenes of life and activity obliterate all vestige of the fatal encounter.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 6.—Advises from different parts of the State show that there were no serious results to crops from the rains of the past two days. From some places damages by chinch bugs are reported, but the yield of wheat in the State as a whole will be large. There will also be good crops of oats, barley and corn.

GRASPING AT STRAWS.

The Daily Scroggie says: "The democratic press makes haste to lay the blame for the present financial crisis on the republican party. We expected this would be done. It is just like the democratic press. There must be a certain amount of political capital accumulated for next year's campaign, and no one need be surprised or frightened that the present financial crisis is taken advantage of to increase this capital. The same things were heard in the fall of 1873, and on every occasion since when a business failure of any importance has occurred.

"The misfortune of a party in power is that it has to shoulder all the blame of financiers and all misfortunes which overtake grasping speculators. Hard times was the watch-cry of the democratic party last fall and it will be its chief stock in trade next year. But we advise the organs of that party to come to some understanding among themselves with reference to the need of the country in a financial way. If failures in business result from republican paper money, what remedy do democrats propose? While their eastern politicians are railing against paper money and inflation, those of Ohio and other western states propose to fight the next presidential campaign on a paper money platform. Instead of agreeing on a remedy for the evils which are charged against the republican party, the opposition differ diametrically upon the medicine to be administered.

It is easy enough to find fault. The most natural thing in the world for the opposition to do, is to do so with reference to the collapse of Duncan, Sherman & Co. The most difficult thing for it to do, we predict, will be to reconcile itself to a policy which can enlist the confidence of the people.

ALONG THE HUDSON.

To the observer of the beautiful and picturesque in nature, there can be no stream surpassing the Hudson. Indeed, it has been—and properly, too—called the Rhine of America. Its ruins it is devoid of the old castles and ruins of bygone days, that stand around the Rhine a kind of halo of splendor, and awaken the curiosity and admiration of the antiquarian; yet the Hudson has its historic points of interest, around which legendary tales and romance cluster and accumulate as the centuries go by. It has its Sleepy Hollow, Crown Point, West Point, Highlands and Catskills. As the tourist leaves the busy whirl of the metropolis and the fashion of the metropolis of the continent and starts northward, he soon enters scenery majestic and grand, extending as far as the eye can reach. The river is broad and expansive, now and then widening out into extensive and beautiful bays, on the bosom of which float innumerable sail, bearing trades destined for all markets of the world.

The sea breeze plays gently upon the surface of the currentless water, and no wonder the bold and venturesome navigator, for whom the river was named, thought he was but passing up an arm or branch of the ocean, and had accomplished the object of his mission, viz: a northwest passage to India.

As we steam on from New York I cannot help contrasting the surroundings with those of that September morning in 1609, when Hendrick Hudson began his ascent. Then Manhattan Island was a woody, rocky waste, inhabited by warlike savages. Now it is a busy mart, densely populated by a million souls. Then a chance canoe could have been seen passing from island to shore, but now, on the same water, ply innumerable vessels from every port in the civilized world. To his left lay a continent overgrown with wild, gross and rank vegetation—wilderness, in fact, of vast proportions; but now the same continent has become the pleasant home of millions of toiling, toiling, and happy people, and but for which all Europe would cry for sustenance. Then the dark gloom of ignorance held in abey the very native race, and not one ray of light penetrated the savage mind, or noble impulse actuated his stony heart, but now civilization, and all that civilization means, has transformed the scene, and lit up the hemisphere as it by Faneu Alladin's lamps placed on a thousand beacon hills. But we proceed.

A few minutes' ride and we pass the famous Elysian hills, formerly a beautiful park and the pleasure resort of the city. Close by is the place made famous by the fatal and cruel duel between Burr and Hamilton. A monument formerly marked the spot, but now, as if to hide the shame of that wicked transaction, the busy scenes of life and activity obliterate all vestige of the fatal encounter.

Duncan, Sherman & Co.
Sued by the Mexican Minister.

THE NATHAN MURDER AGAIN

Another Revelation about It

THE TURNER TRIAL

Motion for an Acquittal.

ELECTION IN KENTUCKY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Manny & Marshall, dealers in builders' and plumbers' materials, 47 Warren street, have suspended, with liabilities said to exceed $140,000.

The Mexican Minister has brought suit against Duncan, Sherman & Co., to recover $16,000 in gold. He claims that, under the company of nations, this money deposited with the firm is not subject to the State law covering an insolvent's estate. He considers that this gold is protected by the same immunity which protects his servants and his other property by reason of his being a diplomatic representative accredited to the Government of the United States.

Drexel, Morgan & Co. make the following announcement: "Having, at the request of Duncan, Sherman & Co., made arrangements for the protection of letters of credit and circular notes issued by the former on the Union Bank of London, in the hands of travelers abroad, we hereby announce that traveling letters of credit and circular notes, accompanied by a letter of identification, issued by Duncan, Sherman & Co., on the Union Bank of London, will be cashed or exchanged for new credits, on presentation at the office of J. S. Morgan & Co., London, or Drexel, Hays & Co., Paris, prior to November 1, 1875."

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The Times to-morrow morning will publish a statement obtained from a prisoner named Billy Forrester, who is serving out a term of ten years in the State Penitentiary at Joliet, for the crime of burglary. The statement is, in substance, that he (Forrester) is fully cognizant of the facts of the Nathan murder, and, although he cannot point out the man who struck the blow, he can name the three professional burglars who attempted, with the cooperation and cognizance of certain high officials in New York, to open the safe in the Nathan mansion, and who, while making this attempt, aroused Mr. Nathan, and between them in order to escape, killed him with the iron dog, which they were using as a professional tool. He refuses to reveal the names of these parties, because he fears that they will interfere with his plan of bringing them to justice, and of revenging himself on them for their persistent persecution of himself. Should he secure a pardon, as he hopes to do, he will make this the object of his life.

He affirms that the relatives of the murdered man had no knowledge whatever of the way in which he came to his death; and he denies the truth of the stories recently published in New York and elsewhere, concerning the murder. Forrester is an old, experienced burglar, and knows the surroundings of the Nathan house perfectly. He submitted diagrams in connection with this confession, and otherwise displayed familiarity with the scene of the assassination. It implicates deeply some of the New York officials, but not by name.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—In the Turner case to-day the counsel for the defense announced that they rested their case with the evidence now in, although they had numerous other witnesses to bring forward in rebuttal. The only testimony that was elicited was for the purpose of throwing discredit on the witnesses produced by the defense. Leonard Sweet then moved the court to instruct the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty, as being the only verdict which could be given in accordance with the evidence. The court did not rule on this motion. It is stated that the State's Attorney Reed has left the case, and will make no argument whatever.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 6.—Advises from different parts of the State show that there were no serious results to crops from the rains of the past two days. From some places damages by chinch bugs are reported, but the yield of wheat in the State as a whole will be large. There will also be good crops of oats, barley and corn.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 6.—The Gazette's Knoxville special says, a negro attempted to rob and violate the person of Mrs. Howarth, of Ashmun, Tenn. He was captured and lodged in jail. At night a party of masked men took him from the jail and shot him seven or eight times. He was found dead the next morning.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 6.—Indications now are that McCreary has carried the State by from 5,000 to 8,000 more votes than for Leslie in 1871. His majority may reach 45,000. It is probable that the vote to call a Constitutional Convention is lost.

JAPAN is going to have a millennial exhibition. It will be held in the town of Nara, in a building that was used as sort of a palace when Nara was the capital, which it ceased to be just 1,000 years ago. The building is of wood, yet in a state of perfect preservation, and contains many treasures placed there by Mikados, who lived in it. However, Philadelphia need not feel discouraged. This country is too young for a millennial now, but that is a fault that time will cure; and this Japanese celebration will be too Nara an affair to excite American jealousy.

Rhode Island was recently thrown into a fever of excitement by the appearance, on the other side of the fence, of a Colorado potato bug. Words can not express the drunken joy that filled the State when the ferocious animal ambled off in disgust after peering into the inclosure through a chink.

V. Barber & Co. are more active than ever in carrying on their great clearance sale. They have marked down all their goods to prices that astonish everybody, and are meeting with a wonderfully rapid sale. Now is the right time to buy, and nobody should allow it to pass unimproved. Come one, come all, while prices are low.

A Word to the Farmers.—We congratulate the farmers of this county upon the fact that the Patrons of Husbandry have secured the agency for the celebrated Smith Wagon, a full stock of which will be kept at the store in court house block. This wagon is too well known to require much commendation on our hands, the factory at which it is made being one of the oldest in the west. It has been before the people so long that its reputation is well established.—The Patrons had the agency here last year, and were quite successful in disposing of a large number, all of which gave the most entire satisfaction to the persons purchasing them. As heretofore the wagons will be sold under the strictest warranty as to material and workmanship. The Patrons will also be prepared, in a short time, to fill orders for a superior quality of spring wagons, made at the same factory.

It is well known that the design of the Patrons of Husbandry is to furnish their members with needed supplies at a very small advance over the wholesale prices—just enough to pay the cost of handling—so that those who buy the Smith Wagon may rest assured that they are not paying any extravagant commissions, but merely a small sum in addition to the wholesale price at the factory. 19-dawt
